Paul Falcone has had a serious heart attack. From his bed in Blackpool Victoria he has written in gratitude and humble amazement at the many parishioners who have expressed their concern and love for him. He feels he does not deserve such support and assures his prayers and love for each of us. He will God willing have a triple by-pass op possibly on Monday next 17 February.

OUR WAY OF LIFE The paradox of being a disciple is that when we are "poor" then we will find true riches; when we are "hungry" then we shall be satisfied; when we are "weeping", then we will have access to joy that is real.

A REFLECTION God is always teaching us through what happens in life and our responses. If we can make no sense of the paradox of the Christian life, then consider making a new act of faith. Faith teaches us that the Word of God cannot be wrong, while we human beings are often in the wrong. Our faith is in the Mercy of God the Father; in the redeeming power of the utter weakness and nothingness of Jesus, God the Word on the cross, forsaken by the one he loves above all, and the gift of the Holy Spirit always inspiring us, nudging us to do good and guiding us onto the right path of loving each other. In other words the life of the Holy Trinity is ours.

WORD OF LIFE Seek peace, and pursue it" (Ps. 34:14)

A sincere search for peace will also help us identify practices that can protect creation, which is also God's gift to his children and is entrusted to us, to care for responsibly, for future generations.

In 1990, Chiara Lubich wrote to Rev. Nikkyo Niwano, founder of the Japanese Buddhist movement Rissho Kosei Kai: "If human beings are not at peace with God, the earth itself is not at peace. People of faith are aware that the earth 'suffers' when it is not treated according to the plan of God, but purely out of self interest and an endless desire to possess. This selfish desire contaminates the environment more than, and before, any other kind of pollution, which is merely its consequence... If we discover that all creation is the gift of a Father who loves us, it will be much easier to find a harmonious relationship with nature. If we also discover that this gift is for everyone in the human family and not only a few, greater attention and respect will be given to something that belongs to all of humanity, both present and future."

The Word of Life is available in full in the Narthex, in New City (free) in front of the Piety shop, and on the website.
