OUR WAY OF LIFE. The Holy Spirit, at the first Pentecost must have felt at home in the Upper room, as there he discovered in human form what he left behind in the Holy Trinity: the disciples all loved each other in joyful hope of what would happen; and perfect mutual love is the life of the Holy Trinity.

A REFLECTION. A few of us have enjoyed the two meetings last week to fill in the Synod questionnaire together. It became clear that as a parish and as a whole Church we need renewal and regeneration. How? That is the hard question to answer but it must be the work of the Holy Spirit. We should continue to pray that we may be made worthy of the promises of Christ, and improve our way of life.

WORD OF LIFE "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you." (Jn 20:21).

The apostles and indeed all Jesus' disciples are sent as "witnesses". In fact, once Christians discover through Jesus what it means to be a child of God, they also realize they have been "sent out". Our vocation and identity as children of God are fulfilled in mission, in going out towards other people, seeing them as brothers and sisters.

We are all called to be apostles who bear witness with our lives and then, if necessary, do so with words too. We become witnesses when we make Jesus' lifestyle our own. This means having an attitude of acceptance and sharing towards the people we meet every day: in the family or at work, when studying or relaxing. It means having at heart the Father's plan for all people – to live as one family.
