OUR WAY OF LIFE. In the Gospel story today we face head on the challenge of evangelisation. Notice that the disciples did not go alone but in pairs to tell others the good news. Why? Because the only thing that counts is Love, and the disciple must first of all be at peace with the immediate neighbour or the preaching will not be authentic. "By this shall all people know that you are my disciples, by the love you have for each other"!

A REFLECTION. Jesus tells us he did not come to call the healthy but sinners (Mt 9;13). Furthermore disciples should rejoice not because we have power to overcome evil, rather because our names (if we are disciples of Jesus) are written in heaven. The Gospel is telling us in the account to live the present moment, and adapt to the circumstances of what happens as we disciples evangelise in the circumstances of life. All this requires training, discipline, perseverance with life's challenges. As St Paul says, this brings the disciple face to face with the cross, and that is the only thing we can boast about.

WORD OF LIFE You received without payment; give without payment (Mt 10:8)

In Matthew's Gospel, Jesus addresses these powerful words to his followers, to those he "sends out". He had encountered a lost and suffering humanity and had felt compassion for them. That is why, through the apostles, he wanted to extend his work of salvation, healing and liberation. They had gathered around him, heard his words and received a mission and purpose for their lives. They had then set out on this path: to bear witness to God's love for every person.

You received without payment; give without payment

But what did they receive "without payment" that they ought to give back? Through Jesus's words and deeds, through the choices he made and his whole life, the apostles experienced the mercy of God. Despite their weaknesses and limitations, they received the new law of love, of mutual acceptance. Above all, they received the gift that God wants to give to all people: he himself; his being with them on the path of life; and his light to help them make their choices. These priceless gifts, which go far beyond our ability to repay, are given freely. These gifts were given to the apostles but they are also given to all Christians, so that they can become channels of these same gifts for the people they meet day by day.
