WAY OF LIFE

WORD OF LIFE

In the commentary of her Word of Life from May 1999, Chiara Lubich wrote, 'A Christian who is not always striving to love does not deserve the name of Christian. The reason is that all Jesus' commandments are summed up in one: to love God and love our neighbour in whom we see and love Jesus. Love is not mere feelings but translates into real life, into service of our brothers and sisters, especially those who are close to us, starting from the little things, from the humblest of services. Charles de Foucauld says: "When you love someone, you are in that person in a real way, you are in that person through love, you live in that person through love; you do not live in yourself, you are 'detached' from yourself, 'outside' yourself." And it is because of this love that Jesus' light gains ground in us, just as he promised: "To those who love me ... I will reveal myself" (see Jn 14: 21). Love is a source of light. And by loving, we have a greater understanding of God who is love.'

Let's accept his 'commandment' and strive to love, just as he did, in the endless opportunities to do this all through the day: in our families, in the parish, at work – responding to offences with forgiveness, building bridges rather than walls, and putting ourselves at the service of anyone weighed down by difficulties.

Far from being a burden, we will discover that this law gives us wings to soar on high.

Tools for Self Reliance need volunteers to help move tools at United Reformed Church, Quin Street, Leyland on Tuesday 8th August at 10am. Anyone fit and able to carry tools from the basement to the street please come along and help this worthwhile cause. The tools refurbished by this group are being sent to Africa.

St. Mary's choir over the last few months has lost committed and valued members. We have been lucky enough to find a new organist, however the 11am choir needs new singers. Singing is said to be praising God twice. So please consider this valuable ministry. No audition just a desire to sing. Speak to any choir member or phone Teresa Smith on 452745

Happy holidays to everyone. If you are travelling we hope you have safe journey's and come back refreshed. If you aren't able to go away we hope you can have a spiritual holiday and have some changes in your routine to help you feel renewed.

God bless everyone.
